Mission Statement

ICMG Saturday Turkish School fosters an environment where each student can explore his or her individual potential for academic excellence and personal achievement in learning Turkish language, the culture and values, while incorporating all these knowledge into their every day learning experiences.

Vision Statement

ICMG Saturday Turkish School has set goals that will enhance its mission and firmly connect it to the wider Australian community:

We aim to:

- Be innovative and responsive to the contemporary world through exploration and adoption of educational strategies that enhance teaching and learning.
- Build a closer educational partnership between parents, teachers and students. We seek to have parents more closely involved in every facet of their child's education and collectively demonstrate ICMG Saturday Turkish School values.
- Meet the individual learning and development needs of each student. Every student deserves to be taught in a way that enables them to reach their potential in whichever area/s they excel.
- Use contemporary teaching tools and methods to better integrate Turkish culture and the values to our curriculum and co-curricular activities. We aim to enable our students to explore their understanding and practice of the culture and values and how they connect with it beyond the classroom and as part of Australian society.
- Naturally connect to the wider Australian community. We are taking on community projects, organizing family / community picnics, and joining programs that enable the community and the School to learn more about each other in a cooperative, mutually beneficial environment.
